Honor Tradition, Embrace Change: 118th AFR Convention Set for February

The 2023 AFR Convention is scheduled for Feb. 17-19 at the Embassy Suites by Hilton Norman – Hotel & Conference Center, 2501 Conference Dr., Norman, Okla. The convention is held in conjunction with the annual meetings of the American Farmers & Ranchers Mutual Insurance Company and the Oklahoma State Union of the Farmers Educational and Cooperative Union of America, Inc.

The cooperative officer and board of director seats for both corporations up for election for the 118th AFR Annual Convention were: Cooperative Officer Secretary, District 1 Northwest Independent Director, District 3 Northeast Agent Director and District 4 Southeast Independent Director.

The Secretary incumbent was unopposed and therefore re-elected. This position is held by Paul Jackson, Ringling.

Filing for Northwest Independent Director District 1 are Larry DeWitt, Cherokee; Roger Edenborough, Goodwell; and Jordan Shearer, Laverne. Filing for Northeast Agent Director District 3 are William Lane, Jay, and John Ogden, Oktaha. Filing for Southeast Independent Director 4 are Loyd Steward, Shawnee, and Mike Goodwin, Roberta.

County and local policy resolutions received by the office of State Secretary Paul Jackson are now being considered by the 2023 AFR Cooperative Policy Committee. The Committee will complete proposals onsite on Friday morning of the convention.

This year bylaw proposals will be considered in the mutual business session only. A description of those proposed changes can be found on page 18. A full description of each bylaw to be considered can be found on the AFR Convention webpage at www.afrmic.com/convention.

Both dues-alone and policyholder members are eligible to attend the convention as delegates, but dues-alone members will only be allowed to vote on matters of the cooperative; policyholders are eligible to vote on both cooperative and insurance matters. Different-colored badges will distinguish between the two categories.

Delegates to the National Farmers Union (NFU) Convention in San Francisco, Calif., March 5-7, 2023, will be elected at the state convention on the afternoon of Saturday, Feb. 18. NFU delegate candidates must provide a biographical paragraph reflecting AFR activities to be given to the state delegates during the NFU delegate election. Delegate cards and biographical information must be received by the AFR Cooperative State Secretary no later than noon, Saturday, Feb. 18. NFU bylaws changes require delegates to be currently or formerly “actively engaged in farming” definition as defined by USDA and further described by NFU. A signed representation of eligibility is required.

The names of deceased AFR policyholders/OFU members who have passed away since our last convention will be remembered in the printed Memorial Roll and during a special video presentation at the Sunday morning worship and memorial service Feb. 19.

AFR Responds

AFR Insurance First to Respond in Idabel

Story and Information Provided By: Darin Miller, AFR Insurance Director of Claims, & Vanessa Wiebe, AFR Insurance Marketing Supervisor

The tornado that hit Idabel during the evening hours of Nov. 4, 2022, was classified as an EF4, which, according to the National Weather Service, is the first EF4 to affect Oklahoma since 2016. To be classified as an EF4, a three-second wind gust must hit an estimated speed of 166-200 mph. There was a second tornado that struck McCurtain County; it was classified as an EF2 (estimated wind speeds of 111-135 mph). Many properties were destroyed, and one fatality was recorded.

The AFR Claims Team swiftly responded to the devastation and were on-site the following morning. The AFR CARE trailer was set up that morning near the Sooner Insurance Agency in Idabel and AFR Claims staff started working on claims in McCurtain County that day.

AFR Insurance Agent Jim Campbell, owner of Sooner Insurance Agency in Idabel, was impressed with how quickly the AFR Claims Team reacted to the event. "The AFR Property Manager texted me Friday night after the storm hit to let me know they would be bringing down the trailer the next morning and that AFR adjusters would start working claims on Saturday. An AFR adjuster was at my office at 7:30 a.m. the next morning and the trailer was here by noon!"

Several homes, outbuildings and vehicles were totaled because of the extensive damage. Payments were issued quickly, and policyholders' minds were put at ease by AFR's prompt actions. The AFR Claims Team was glad to be there when our customers needed us most!

AFR Foundation Donates to Denison Elementary in Idabel

IDABEL—The AFR Foundation has donated $5,000 to Denison Elementary School to cover the cost of the school's insurance deductible. Denison Elementary took a direct hit during the recent Idabel tornado. The school lost the roof off its main building and sustained significant water damage.

Representatives of the Foundation presented a check for the donation to Denison School Superintendent Stacey Ebert Nov. 15.

Also in attendance were AFR Cooperative Vice President and Foundation Board Member Ryan Plemmons, Broken Bow, AFR Cooperative and Foundation Board Member Mike Goodwin, Roberta, and AFR Insurance Agent Jim Campbell, Idabel.

"A loss like this can be very disruptive to students and teachers alike," said Goodwin. "We're proud the Foundation could play a small part in helping Denison Elementary rebuild and get back to providing its students with a great education."

Are you properly insured?

Story and Information Provided By: Trent Davis, AFR Insurance Director of Pricing & Product Development

Purchasing a home is the biggest financial decision most of us will make in our lives. A Homeowner or Farm & Ranch insurance policy provides peace of mind that your investment will be protected if a covered loss happens.

With AFR's standard Homeowner and Farm & Ranch policies offering replacement cost coverage, a homeowner might think their property is fully covered in the event of a loss. However, a policy must maintain adequate policy limits every year to ensure the coverage is high enough to rebuild the home.

Prior to Covid-19, material and labor cost increases were modest and consistent. However, things have changed in the last three years. Worldwide lockdowns severely impacted supply chains and the availability of skilled labor. Inflation is currently at a level not seen in four decades.

On the insurance side, reconstruction costs on labor and materials are 33% higher than they were three years ago. This means that a home that was adequately insured just a couple of years ago might not have enough coverage today to completely rebuild after a total loss. In addition to this, the amount paid under the replacement cost coverage may be reduced if the home is not insured to at least 80% of the cost to rebuild the entire home at the time of a covered loss. This would include covered losses below the policy limit.

We are living in challenging times. AFR thrives on helping customers in their time of need. Now is a great time to discuss your current insurance needs with your AFR Insurance agent to make sure you are properly covered.

TOP SPEAKERS

Economy: Perhaps other than drought and supply chain issues, nothing has captured our attention more than perhaps the state and national economy and rising interest rates to curb inflation, impacted by a world stage of military conflict and other international issues which impact agriculture, rural communities, and urban cities and suburban towns. Two speakers will address the issues. Megan Williams, an associate economist and manager of regional affairs for the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City – Oklahoma City Branch, will speak on the “U.S. and Oklahoma Economic Outlook,” and Patrick Zeka, president and CEO for Oklahoma AgCredit covers the “Oklahoma Ag & Rural Economy: A Lenders Perspective.”

Learn about the possibilities and how they might apply to Oklahoma.

General: Newly appointed USDA-FSA Oklahoma State Director Steve Kouplen will bring an update and expound on the value to Oklahoma of the permanent disaster program helping farmers and ranchers meet their business obligations, as well as other FSA program updates. Oklahoma State Ag Statistician and AFR Member Troy Marshall will discuss the value of participating in the 2022 Census of Agriculture and how it can impact funds received by farmers and ranchers. Oklahoma Beef Council Director of Marketing and Communications Nikki Snyder will bring an update on a NEW online beef directory that producers can participate in, as well as other topics.

Organization/Company History: Created from an original 1917 photograph, “The Cottonwood Farmers Union Band” state capitol painting project focused around the first band to play at the Oklahoma Capitol. The band from a local union chapter had been attending the annual convention in Oklahoma City. Speakers include AFR Agent and State Senator Darcy Jech and former State Representative Harold Wright, whose family is captured in the painting recently dedicated at the state capitol. State Secretary Paul Jackson will cover the early history of the farmers union and how that band fit into the people of the time activities and issues.

2023 Proposed Bylaw Changes

These changes will be considered during the first general session of the 2023 AFR State Convention on Friday, Feb. 17, at 1:15 p.m. Delegates wishing to participate in the bylaws consideration should be registered and in the room by that time.

By Brandon Wilson on behalf of Whitworth, Wilson & Evans, PLLC

PROPOSED BYLAW CHANGES A

PROPOSED BYLAW CHANGE A-1

Rationale: The current language does not require boards, corporations or associations to be a member of State Union to buy AFRMIC insurance. However, the current practice is to generally require both persons and corporations to become members of State Union. The proposed change aligns the bylaws with current practice, which is that corporations, boards and associations like any other persons do in fact join the State Union when purchasing insurance products from an appointed insurance agent of American Farmers & Ranchers Mutual Insurance Company. It is felt that the Bylaw language to the contrary should be deleted.

Under law, a company or association can be a member of the State Union. Historically, the mutual insurance company's products were a service of the State Union until the 1980s, when the Oklahoma Insurance Department required the formation of the mutual insurance company. (Therefore, Oklahoma Farmers Union Mutual Insurance Company was formed—now known as American Farmers & Ranchers Mutual Insurance Company.) Although the creation of the separate mutual insurance company occurred in the 1980s, membership in the State Union remained a requisite for purchasing insurance with the mutual. It therefore seems consistent that corporations, boards, or associations who want to buy AFRMIC insurance should also be members of the State Union, which, as noted above, most if not all, already do. The proposed change, therefore, is reflective of the historic affiliation between the insurance services and membership in State Union and reflective of current practices.

PROPOSED BYLAW CHANGE A-2

Rationale: This change is proposed to promote consistency between this language and the language proposed for Article III. See Proposed Change B-4. This change is not considered substantive; rather, it is for consistency purposes.

PROPOSED BYLAW CHANGE A-3

Rationale: This change is to provide clarity to language that was felt to be unclear and to make the language more consistent with State Union rules pertaining to membership. The current AFRMIC Bylaw provision here is not consistent with State Union Bylaws. AFRMIC's Bylaw language states here that: "Where two or more individuals, not members of the same family, are named as insureds in any policy of insurance, each named person must pay dues..." Consider a 26 year-old son of a husband and wife. He is indeed a family member of the husband and wife. Under this AFRMIC Bylaw language, the 26 year-old could conclude that he need not pay a separate membership dues to the State Union in order to obtain insurance, since he is a member of the same family. But that is not true under State Union rules. He would not be a member of the State Union under State Union rules because a "family membership" is limited to children under 21 years of age. Under the State Union Bylaws, a 26 year-old would be obligated to pay separate dues. The proposed change, then, clarifies that all named insureds must be a member of the State Union, in accordance with the Bylaws of the State Union. This is a more satisfactory way of expressing the intent of the language. Examples:

- A husband and a wife are both named insureds on an auto policy. Husband and wife, for one dues amount to the State Union (at the time of the drafting of this proposal, that amount is one $35.00 dues) would both be members of the State Union under State Union's "family membership" rules. Therefore, husband and wife would both be "named insureds" who are also "members of State Union."
- But suppose a husband, wife, and a 23 year-old daughter are named insureds on one AFRMIC homeowners' policy. In this case, the husband and wife would be members of the State Union under the "family membership" in exchange for the $35.00 membership dues payment. However, the 23 year-old daughter is older than the age limit in State Union's rules, which is currently limits family membership to children 21 years old or younger. She has, therefore, "aged-out" of the family membership.

- The daughter must pay a separate and additional membership dues of $35.00 in order to be a member of State Union. Suppose a man is a named insured on a policy along with an LLC that is also identified as a named insured. The LLC is not qualified to be a "family member" for family membership purposes under State Union rules. Therefore, the man should pay one membership dues and the LLC should also pay its own membership dues.

The other changes to the language are stylistic only and clarify that a corporation, for example, gets one vote and that the corporation should identify to AFRMIC (on forms or documents acceptable to AFRMIC) who is going to exercise that vote on behalf of the corporation. (Having a corporation designate the person exercising the vote is a common way of handling the corporation's one vote.)

PROPOSED BYLAW CHANGES B

PROPOSED CHANGES TO ARTICLE III

PROPOSED BYLAW CHANGE B-1

Rationale: This change adds the word "policyholder" in the title before the word "meetings." Article III pertains to policyholder meetings. In another Article, Board of Directors' meetings are described. To avoid confusion, it was felt that the addition of the word "policyholder" should be added to the title.

PROPOSED BYLAW CHANGE B-2

Rationale: The existing language provides for two notices. The first notice is a "Notice of Date" of the Annual Meeting, to be provided at least ninety (90) days prior to the Annual Meeting. This notice only provides the date and its purpose is so that policyholders may note their calendars. The second notice provides for the traditional “Notice of Annual Meeting”, which contains the ordinary information typically found in a notice of annual meeting.

The purpose of the dual notices is that the physical arrangements of the convention, as well as the order and nature of the business to be had at the convention, is often being ironed-out during the fall months. Therefore, it was felt that having an initial notice of the date well in advance of the meeting was helpful to policyholders so that they may note their calendars. Meanwhile, the Company can finalize the arrangements and order the business and provide the formal “Notice of Annual Meeting”, with the information ordinarily associated with that notice, and provide such notice later.

However, the language was viewed as imprecise. Therefore, these changes were made for stylistic reasons.

PROPOSED CHANGE B-3

Rationale: The existing language did not fit the exact practice of AFRMIC. Therefore, clarification has been made to align this Section 3 with current practice and state statute regarding voting rights. A quorum, under the proposed language, is the number of persons entitled to vote who are present.

PROPOSED CHANGE B-4

Rationale: Oklahoma law requires that a mutual insurance company allow a member of a mutual the right to vote in person at an annual meeting. There is a substantial cost to both AFRMIC and the State Union to conduct a convention, which includes creating and implementing the credentialing for voting and the contracting for outside vendors for voting machines and other equipment. Currently, there is no way to know whether a person is going to appear in person and vote, and, as a result, AFRMIC and State Union must pay for the possibility that persons will vote, even if none do. Therefore, it is felt to be a reasonable rule to (a) allow for in person voting (which is required by Oklahoma statute) but (b) set a reasonable deadline to “register to vote” so that AFRMIC and State Union can make reasonable expenditures, but help limit unnecessary expenditures, at the annual meetings.

This proposal also clarifies that when a special meeting is called—which is an unusual occurrence—the Board of Directors should prescribe reasonable rules and deadlines for the appointment of delegates so that the special meeting may be held fairly and in good order.

Other than this registration process, this proposed language is materially the same as the language already in Section 4 of Article III, except that it has been organized and simplified. For example, the delegate totals are the same in the proposal as in the current bylaws. Likewise, Roberts Rules govern, unless there are special rules, in both the current bylaws and this proposal.

Nevertheless, while the current Section 4 is materially similar to this proposal, except for the addition of the registration process, because the drafting organized and simplified the content to such an extent, this proposal is not a “redlined” version of the current language; rather, it has been re-written.

PROPOSED CHANGE B-5

Rationale: This Section is new, but the concept of a chair is already present in the Bylaws. The practice has been that the person appointed by the Board of Directors as chair for the Board of Director meetings (for the mutual insurance company) has also served as the person presiding over the policyholder meetings as well. This language simply recognizes that practice. Please note that because this new Section 5 is being proposed, it is recommended that that current chair language be deleted.

PROPOSED CHANGES C

PROPOSED CHANGES TO ARTICLE IV

PROPOSED BYLAW CHANGE C-1

Rationale: These changes do the following:

- Eliminates the current language authorizing a removal by the Directors of another Director “without cause.”
- Provides for the types of behavior constituting “cause” for removal of a Director.
- Provides procedural safeguards to the affected Director by requiring notice to the Director and a chance to be heard before the Board votes on the matter. Furthermore, if the Board votes to remove a Director, the policyholders may override that vote.

It is common for Bylaws of a corporation to give to a Board the ability to police itself—this power is critical to the effective performance of a Board’s duties. As far as the Board of Directors of AFRMIC can tell, many companies provide a mechanism for the removal of a Director that does not require a unanimous vote of the Directors—although many do require a heightened threshold (such as a supermajority). The current language in AFRMIC’s Bylaws, however, requires a unanimous vote.

A board of a company ought to have the power to remove a Director who should be removed, since the members of a board are those most familiar with and knowledgeable of the business of the board and conduct of the members of the board.

AFRMIC policyholders elect a Board of Directors who are tasked with the general superintendence of the Company. This is necessary because it would be physically impossible to summon all policyholders for meetings, both special and regular, for every business issue arising during the course of business. Therefore, the Board of Directors become familiar with overall functions of the business and the general status of affairs of the business—including the interactions of the members of the Board. The Board of Directors is, in this regard, the entity in the best position to know whether a Director ought to be removed for the listed reasons constituting “cause.”

While all the above is true, it is also true that each director is elected by the people—i.e., the policyholders. Therefore, while the Board of Directors ought to have the ability to better police itself, such ability must not be “too easy” or taken “too lightly.”

Therefore, the proposed language attempts to strike a balance of all these various interests. For example, the words “without cause” are eliminated. Cause is required. “Cause” is also defined in an effort to establish some boundaries in what types of behavior a Board can consider when determining whether to remove another Board member. Before a vote can occur, the affected Director must be given notice and a chance to be heard. Finally, the policyholders themselves by a simple majority may override the Board of Directors.

PROPOSED CHANGE C-2

Rationale: Procedural Commentary: Please note that there is an existing “Section 8—Officers” already under Article IV, dealing with Officers. In other words, in the current Bylaws, both the provisions for Directors and the provisions for Officers appear under Article IV – Board of Directors. Most companies’ Bylaws have “Board of Directors” in one Article and “Officers” in another Article. It was felt to be cleaner to make a similar change to AFRMIC’s Bylaws. Therefore, the Board is proposing a simple renumbering, and the Board is requesting this to happen regardless of whether the policyholders approve or disapprove any other language.

How does this affect the proposed language above? If renumbering is approved, then this particular language regarding Chairperson would be Section 8 of Article IV. However, if renumbering is not approved, but the policyholders do approve the Chairperson language, then this language would be Section 11 of Article IV.

Substantive Commentary: As far as the actual wording of the proposal is concerned, the current Bylaws already allow the President/CEO OR a person designated by the Board to preside over the meetings. Over the last several years, the Board has designated a chairperson of the Board to preside over meetings and assist management in the preparation of meeting agendas and similar liaison work. The chairperson is a member of the Board (and thus retains his/her vote). Beyond that, however, the chair does not exercise any officer-type powers. This proposed language simply puts in writing the current practice.

The proposal is intended to be under Article IV (i.e., the Board article) rather than the Officer article. It should be under the “Board” article since AFRMIC does not treat the Chairperson of the Board as an “Officer.”

Under the law, and depending upon the circumstances, a “Chairperson” could be considered an “officer” of a company with associated duties. Since the Company does not treat the Chairperson as an officer and since the Board is not currently recommending that the Chairperson of AFRMIC’s Board be treated as an “officer”, the Board recommended clarification in the Bylaws that the Chairperson is not an officer until further notice. Thus, although already in effect in practice, it was felt that such language be specifically included in these Bylaws and included under Article IV under the “Board of Directors” provisions, rather than the “Officers” provisions.

PROPOSED CHANGES D

PROPOSED MOVE OF SECTIONS 8, 9, AND 10 OF ARTICLE IV TO A NEW ARTICLE V

Rationale: No substantive change is proposed here. In fact, the policyholders could reject all proposed other changes to the Bylaws but this one change, and none of the meaning of the Bylaws would be affected. Clarity and organization, though, would be enhanced.

The Director role is distinct from the Officer role. Yet, under AFRMIC’s currently existing Bylaws, both roles are provided for under Article IV – Board of Directors. If a reader were to read the full text of all of Article IV, then it is felt that the distinction is reasonably clear. However, it is felt that (a) it would be cleaner to have the two different roles broken out into two different Articles and (b) such distinction is most common in the Bylaws of companies in Oklahoma. Therefore, the proposal is to take Sections 8, 9, and 10 of Article IV and segregate them into a new Article V- Officers. Then the current Articles V through XII would simply be renumbered accordingly.

PROPOSED CHANGES E

PROPOSED BYLAW CHANGES TO (NEW) ARTICLE V

(The below presupposes that the renumbering was or will be approved by the policyholders—see Proposed Changes D—and therefore these address Section 1 (i.e., former Section

8 of Article IV) and Section 2 (i.e., former Section 9 of Article IV.)

PROPOSED CHANGE E-1

Rationale: This Proposed Change E-1 is a proposed change to the existing Section 8 of Article IV (which will be renumbered to Section 1 of Article V).

This Proposed Change E-1 is to revise Section 1(c) by deleting 1(c) entirely for the reason that the person presiding over the Board of Directors meetings is now provided for in the new Section 8 under Article IV. (Please see Proposed Change C-2.) There is no need to keep Section 1(c) if the policyholders approve the new Section 8 under Article IV. But note: If the new Section 8 under Article IV is not approved, then the Board of Directors will withdraw this Proposed Change E-1.

Note also that while this Proposed Change E-1 does not propose any changes to existing Section 1(a) (i.e., Section 8(a) if renumbering is not approved), nevertheless, please see Proposed Change E-3 for proposed changes to Section 1(a) (i.e., Section 8(a)).

PROPOSED CHANGE E-2

Rationale: Section 2 (former Section 9 of Article IV) contained language holding over from when the Officers of AFRMIC were elected by the policyholders. The proposed changes simply make the removal provisions consistent with the existing Section 1, which states that the Board of Directors appoints the Officers with a 2/3 vote. The appointment is by a 2/3 vote or more vote of the Directors. The proposed changes contemplate that removal may be accomplished in the same fashion (i.e., a majority or more vote of the Directors.) The current language contemplates a unanimous vote of the Board of Directors.

(The below presupposes that the renumbering was or will be approved by the policyholders—see Proposed Changes D—and therefore these address Section 1 (i.e., former Section 8 of Article IV) and Section 2 (i.e., former Section 9 of Article IV.)

PROPOSED CHANGE E-3

Rationale: This Proposed Change E-3 is a proposed change to the existing Section 8 of Article IV (which will be renumbered to Section 1 of Article V).

This Proposed Change E-3 is to revise Section 1(a) (currently Section 8(a) of Article IV but proposed to be renumbered) by providing that the President/CEO, the Secretary and the Treasurer/CFO is appointed by the Board of Directors upon a 2/3 vote. Currently, these offices are filled by a majority vote of the Directors—this change will provide for a 2/3 vote. The heightened threshold to appoint an officer corresponds with the heightened threshold to remove an officer, which is provided for in Proposed Change E-2.

PROPOSED CHANGES F

PROPOSED CHANGES TO ARTICLE VI
(The below presupposes that the renumbering was or will be approved by the policyholders—see Proposed Changes D—and therefore these address Article VI, formerly known as Article V.)

PROPOSED CHANGE F-1

Rationale: Historically, the policyholders of AFRMIC have directed that AFRMIC contribute up to (or “no more than”) one percent (1%) of AFRMIC’s earned annual premium to the Oklahoma State Union to support those programs that promote AFRMIC. The finalized amount has been subject to the discretion of the Board of Directors. There can be legitimate business reasons where, from time to time, it would not be appropriate to contribute funds. For example, if such contribution would cause the mutual’s surplus to dip below the required minimum surplus.

However, and on the other hand, the wording of the Bylaw created some difficulty with the State Union, when budgeting time came, since State Union could not determine with any reasonable exactitude what funds may be available. Furthermore, since the current Bylaw obligated “no more than” 1%, that contribution—theoretically—is between 0% to, and no more than, 1%.

AFRMIC recognizes the historical connection between the State Union and AFRMIC. In a desire to affirm that connection, this proposed change obligates, by policyholder directive, AFRMIC to contribute a full 1% rather than an amount “no more than one percent.” The requirement that the contribution be tethered to “programs that furthers the purpose and promotes the corporation” is removed.

But the contribution cannot be made if it cannot be legally made, and that exception remains in the proposed Bylaw revisions. If, for example, the contribution would cause the mutual business to fail, the Board is authorized to withhold it.

The proposed language becomes a policyholder directive to the Corporation requiring the contribution. It is AFRMIC’s belief that the availability of the funds will assist the State Union’s mission of providing educational, advocacy, and relief services for agricultural producers and families and youth.

LOOKING BACK

Joyful Sound: OFU Band Painting Unveiled at State Capitol

AFR Cooperative now has an even larger presence at the Oklahoma Capitol. On Nov. 18, 2022, the Oklahoma State Capitol Art Collection unveiled “Cottonwood Band,” a painted depiction of the first band to play at the then new state capitol building in 1917. As with many other historic moments in Oklahoma history, Oklahoma Farmers Union was key to this appearance—all the players were OFU members. They were in Oklahoma City for nothing less than the OFU State Convention.

ABOUT THE ARTWORK

Throughout more than a century of service, the Oklahoma Capitol has hosted countless events and musical performances. According to the 1917 article, published in The Oklahoma Times, the first music to have filled the corridors and rotundas of the newly completed Capitol came from The Cottonwood Band of the Farmers Union, a brass band that hailed from the western Oklahoma town of Weatherford. Harold Wright, a descendant of the band members, served as Speaker Pro Tempore of the Oklahoma House of Representatives from 2017-2021. In commissioning the painting that depicts the day The Cottonwood Band performed at the Capitol, Rep. Wright provided artist Robert Marsee with old family photographs to use as reference material. Primarily comprised of members of the Wright and Witzel families, the band was headed by Harry Wright (pictured in the back row, far left, with the trumpet) who led rehearsals for the band every Monday in the Cottonwood rural schoolhouse. Family patriarch P.W. Wright, Chet Wright and G.G. Witzel—Harry Wright’s father-in-law are depicted in the painting among various in-laws.

ABOUT THE ARTIST

ning painter and artist from Weatherford, Okla., who specializes in creating portraits in oil. Marsee studied under renowned artists Hollis Howard and Angus “Kent” Lamar at the University of Science and Arts of Oklahoma in Chickasha. He has been a featured artist at festivals and events throughout the state and has created works for prominent clients such as former U.S. Housing and Urban Development Secretary Ben Carson and Rock & Roll Hall of Fame band Bon Jovi. Marsee operates a fine art and framing shop out of his studio in Weatherford where he also teaches several weekly oil painting classes.

The tale of the Cottonwood Band is a fascinating walk through OFU history. Attend this year’s AFR State Convention to learn more about the painting and the band that played for a brand new building 106 years ago.

AFR Locals Donate Tower Gardens to Metro Classrooms

AFR Cooperative Local #928 and Local #305 each donated a tower garden as part of the AFR Cooperative Tower Garden Grant Program. The program is a cost match program for the installation of aeroponic tower garden units in public school classrooms. The AFR locals donated the towers to Positive Tomorrow and Pivot Inc., both located in Oklahoma City. Positive Tomorrow is a non-profit dedicated to clearing a path to success for children facing the challenges of homelessness. Pivot Inc. is a nonprofit that provides a secure and safe place to live for those in need, the underprivileged, and those struggling with mental illness.

AFR Cooperative Tower Garden Grant Program is a way for AFR county and local organizations to bring agriculture into classrooms. Tower gardens encourage agricultural education by using an advanced form of hydroponics and aeroponics. The tower gardens do not require soil, weeding or digging. They also remove most of the physical labor of traditional gardening. Instead of getting nutrients from the sun and soil, plants in a tower garden use a light system and nutrient rich water. Students interact with agriculture by planting and caring for tower garden plants as they grow.

AFR Local #928 and AFR Local #305 are the most recent AFR organizations to participate in the program. AFR local #928 is connected to Neher Insurance Agency in Oklahoma City. AFR Local #305 is connected to Thompson's Insurance Agency in Chandler.

Thirty youth from across Oklahoma competed in the 2022 Midwest Shows Livestock Handling Scholarship Contest Nov. 18. The annual competition showcases the skills of young FFA members in practical, real-life cattle handling scenarios, such as weighing for accurate dosage, vaccinating and tagging calves in a manual chute. Contestants are judged on skill, accuracy and efficiency as they process the animals.

“While stress-free processing has always been a goal of good cattlemen, proper and efficient handling has become even more important in the modern age of livestock production,” said AFR Cooperative President Scott Blubaugh. “With an increased need to diversify herds, producers can now expect cattle of all ages and backgrounds to be sent through the chute. It’s vital that young producers understand the needs of each animal.” The annual contest begins with a written exam that measures students’ knowledge of livestock handling practices. At the state level, the competition emphasizes the application of classroom study to actual agricultural production scenarios. In order to excel, students must take knowledge out of the classroom and apply it in a real world situation.

“The industry needs young producers more than ever,” said Ddee Haynes, Sales Representative for Multimin USA and contest coordinator. “We hope this contest encourages young producers on their path to becoming full-fledged cattlemen and cattle women. This is a noble profession to pursue. We want them to know we’ll be supporting them every step of the way.”

Ten teams—two top teams from each FFA district—of three students each qualified for the state competition. Top-placing overall teams received caps and cash scholarship awards. The first place team in the livestock handling portion of the contest also received the Frank Elliot Scholarship and $2,000 in Priefert equipment to be used by the entire FFA chapter. The 2022 Midwest Shows Livestock Handling Scholarship Contest was sponsored by AFR Cooperative, Ballou Cattle Company, Midwest Show, Behlen Country Farm & Ranch Equipment, Cattleac Cattle Equipment, Datamars Livestock, Oklahoma Cattlemen’s Foundation, Oklahoma Farm Bureau, Oklahoma National Stockyards, Dale and Tammi Didlot, Multimin and Priefert Rodeo & Ranch Equipment.

AFR SPEECH CONTEST

This marks the 77th year of the statewide contest. The event has gone through many changes over the years, but has always maintained its central agricultural theme. Varying by grade level, this year's speech categories are AFR/OFU, Agricultural Policy, Agribusiness, Natural Resources, and Agri-Science. All students, grades four through 12, are eligible to compete.

Nearly 500 students competed in AFR district speech contests this season, resulting in more than 160 finalists advancing to the state contest held Dec. 3 at Oklahoma State University (OSU) in Stillwater.

TULSA TIME!

Tulsa Cattle Grading

FFA and 4-H students from across Oklahoma demonstrated their knowledge of commercial cattle selection during the Tulsa State Fair Commercial Cattle Grading Contest September 29. The annual event is sponsored by AFR.

To excel in the contest, participants must employ their knowledge of cattle traits to choose breeding and market animals that will prove profitable in real-life production situations. The contestants rank animals by structural soundness of replacement heifers, profitability of cull cows, market steer yield potential and more. Ultimately, contestants are rewarded for their recognition of high-quality cattle -- just as a producer would profit from similar selection within their own herd. Awards are presented to the top five teams and top ten individuals in FFA and 4-H.

The Night of Champions Scholarship Series celebrated the hard work of 150 of Oklahoma's 4-H and FFA youth who "make the stage," as well as recognize the prestigious grand and reserve grand champions.

Scholarships were paid by check directly to the exhibitor after the conclusion of the fair. Although the scholarship dollars are intended to assist exhibitors with costs incurred while caring for their livestock projects or to invest in future livestock projects, there is no restriction on what the scholarship dollars can be used for.

As in previous years, AFR Cooperative is a proud sponsor of the Tulsa State Fair 4-H and FFA activities. This new "Night of Champions" Scholarship Series divides sponsors into tiers; AFR Cooperative is once again proud to be in the top tier of contributors.

...a TON of Cure...

*Story and Information Provided By:
Paul Morgan, VP of AFR Life*

PLANNING FOR YOUR FAMILY'S NEEDS

As we begin the new year, many of us make lists and plans to make this new year better, to be more organized and in control than last year.

Benjamin Franklin's famous quote describes the value of this planning process—"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." But, what if some situations were so important that the "pound of cure" was more like a "TON of cure?"

When it comes to some basic areas of planning your family finances, the solutions are so easy and the impact so potentially large that a TON is much closer to the mark. Here are some actions to consider and discuss with your family to ensure your finances are in a better position to accomplish your family financial goals.

1. BENEFICIARIES

Beneficiaries are the people, typically family members, who will receive the benefits of your insurance policies, retirement accounts or bank accounts. You are usually asked to identify the beneficiaries when you set up each account or policy.

As time marches on, your family situation may change and your current beneficiary list may need updating. Births, deaths, marriage or divorce can all have a major impact on who you want your beneficiaries to be.

By law, only the persons listed as beneficiaries can receive the benefits. However, updating or changing your beneficiaries is easy to do. Contact your insurance companies, banks, and retirement account administrators to complete a new beneficiary designation form. It will put your financial house in better order knowing the individuals you want to receive your benefits will actually receive them.

EX-SPOUSES

Current Oklahoma statute states that upon a divorce, the ex-spouse is automatically removed as a beneficiary on life insurance. There may be instances where that is not wanted. An ex-spouse can be re-added to the policy as a beneficiary after the divorce is finalized with a letter from the owner to the insurance company stating that the ex-spouse should be added as a valid beneficiary.

2. ADVANCE DIRECTIVE/LIVING WILL

A simple document will allow you to express your wishes for end-of-life decisions in the event you are incapacitated. It is known as an "advance directive" or a "living will." This document gives your family members the legal right to extend life or remove ongoing life support as the occasion may arise. Without this document, the decision could be delayed or stopped entirely depending on other family members or medical professionals becoming involved.

You can access a free copy of this document by searching "advance directive" at www.Oklahoma.gov. You must complete the form and sign it for it to be effective.

3. DURABLE POWER OF ATTORNEY

If an aging relative is nearing the point where they can no longer take care of their personal finances or make other important decisions for their care, a "durable power of attorney" can be completed. This document gives a family member control over those decisions. It is best not to wait until the parent is completely incapacitated before completing this document.

4. WILL

A will allows you to designate how your assets and belongings are distributed upon your death. If you die without a will, you leave the decisions of how your estate will be handled to the court. You also leave the decision of how your personal and family mementos and keepsakes will be distributed. It is surprising how often bitter arguments arise over sentimental items because the decisions of who is to receive them was not documented.

Even if a formal will, drafted by an attorney, is not completed, a hand-written will can express your wishes effectively. Something is better than nothing.

ATTORNEY INVOLVEMENT

These decisions and actions can have far-reaching effects on your family finances; we recommend that you consult an attorney to ensure these steps are taken correctly and result in the outcome you intended.

Sometimes, people shy away from getting legal help for fear of a large expense. However, spending a few dollars now to set things up right can give you peace of mind and avoid expensive problems later in life.

Golf Tournament Raises Funds for AFR Foundation

Closest to Pin

First Place Team

Longest Drive

The sixth annual AFR Foundation golf tournament took place Oct. 6 at FireLake Golf Course in Shawnee. The Foundation is a non-profit organization focused on the betterment of rural communities in Oklahoma. Through the event, the Foundation raised more than $10,000. All tournament proceeds will support future AFR Foundation youth and community outreach endeavors.

"The Foundation does important and necessary work throughout the year," said AFR Cooperative President Scott Blubaugh. "Golf tournament funds make needs-based grants, special local and county projects and certain youth events possible."

Winners of the AFR Golf Tournament were Miles Insurance in first, Gilbert Insurance Agency in second, and Porters Insurance in third. The winner of the longest drive contest was Cody Miller. Closest-to-the-pin contest winner was Buddy Miles.

In Memoriam...

Ervin "Leo" Lane

Ervin "Leo" Lane, 86, a long-time resident of Konawa, passed away Jan. 29, 2022, in Oklahoma City.

Leo was born Dec. 31, 1935, in Summers Chapel to Leo and Clara Ruth (Fisher) Lane. He was a proud graduate of Konawa High School. Leo married Patsy Ellen Finch Dec. 23, 1956, at First Baptist Church in Konawa. They made their home in Vernal, Utah, where Leo was employed by Casada Construction, the same place he had worked during the summer of his freshman year of high school.

During the Berlin Crisis, Leo was called to active duty with the 115th Combat Engineers of Utah. They were attached to the 6th Army Unit in Ft. Lewis, Wash. Leo's unit immediately became a STRAC (Skilled, Tough, Ready Around the Clock) force and he was chosen to attend the NCO (non-commissioned officer) Academy where he graduated in the top 10% of his class. From there, he became part of a atomic demolition munitions team where he learned to set land-based atomic bombs. Upon being honorably discharged from the military, Leo returned to Vernal and became the field superintendent for the heavy equipment portion of Casada Construction. He was also a member of the Ashley Valley Masonic Lodge of Vernal.

During that time, Leo began to contribute toward the purchase of land where he intended to make his home and raise his family. In 1966, that dream became a reality when the family moved back to Konawa. Leo considered it an honor to have served ten years on the Konawa School Board. At the time of his death, he still assisted with the AFR Lane Insurance Agency, but his main focus was raising cattle alongside his family in the river bend south of Konawa. Leo is survived by his wife of 65 years, Patsy, of the home; two sons, Kevin Lane of Konawa and David Lane and wife, Tiffany, of Byng; two grandsons, Austin and Kaiden Lane; and numerous nieces and nephews in Oklahoma and Washington. He was preceded in death by his parents, one brother and two sisters.

A graveside service with military honors took place Feb. 1, 2022, at Konawa Cemetery.

Oklahoma STRONG

From the Desk of Scott Blubaugh

The holidays are over and winter is here! For AFR, that means it's convention season.

This year's AFR convention is shaping up to be a great one. We have some dynamic speakers lined up and we're looking forward to seeing everyone gathered in one place.

This year's convention PAC auction will operate a little differently than in years past. We've pared down the live auction and have a short list of fantastic items. We'll auction them off live at the convention banquet on Saturday night. The live auction items may be the best we've ever had, so don't miss convention banquet this year!

We'll also have our traditional silent auction and we need items! Silent auction items are typically smaller, less expensive items that are unique and desirable. The more interesting the donated items, the most interesting the silent auction! Handmade items, artwork, purses, jewelry, tools—you name it, our silent auction has it. If you're interested in donating, please give us a call. We'll walk you through the process and even help you brainstorm for your donation.

On a final note for convention—if you have any interest in the Oklahoma Certified Beef Association, NOW is the time to be watching! We've got a big opportunity on the horizon we plan to unveil at convention. There will be a presentation during the all-member OCBA annual meeting on Friday morning. You've got to come to convention to see what we've got going!

On a more somber note, the AFR Cooperative is anticipating strong budget challenges in 2023. The same inflation everyone is experiencing has made our operating expenses increase significantly. Through 2022, we have maintained all our youth and cooperative programs at the high standard our membership is used to experiencing. But, with inflationary dollars, it's become very difficult to operate.

In order to provide a balanced budget for the Cooperative in 2023, we have been forced to cut many of our programs. Our remaining programs have taken drastic reductions in funding. Even with budgeting constraints and challenges, I have faith we will continue to support our membership in our core mission areas. While we may have fewer staff members taking on additional work, our staff are willing and capable. They care about the Cooperative's mission areas and will help see us through the year ahead.

See you at Convention! God bless!

-Scott
